Giving Memorandum to 4 Divisional Commissioners

In Bangladesh transgender community is one of the most forlorn clusters of the society. They are living a very truculent life due to their different culture, sexual orientation and gender identity.

But as a rightful burgher they have equal rights like others. They are even deprived from availing of basic rights from the society. To soothe their pain and vindicate their social rights, Bandhu Social Welfare Society (Bandhu) started working in 1996. In this long way till date, Bandhu and its 27 partner Community Base Organizations (CBOs) worked in different way of advocacy towards ensuring their health care needs, health service and human rights issues.

Bandhu believes that without deign of government, proper expectancy can never be achieved for transgender community in Bangladesh.

Targeting this, Bandhu and its 27 CBOs from all over the country planned to give memorandum to District Commissioner of four divisions. Bandhu and Different group of transgender representatives on behalf of 27 CBO's visited DC offices of Dhaka, Chittagong, Rajshahi and Sylhet to hand over a memorandum to the respective District Commissioner to brief them about their affliction and assertion for the way out from this miseries and live a humanly life.

The main objective of the program was to draw attention of government to minimize their miseries from their daily life and abidingly set up their rights by which they can live a humanly life.
